To whom it may concern

As the Resident Director of MASH Virtual (UK), a technology Company that works with Augmented & Virtual Reality (AR/VR), I am pleased to write this letter of recommendation for Farhana Zarief.

Farhana interned with us on our project zamit (a mobile app that connects school eco systems) for a period of one month and several of us on TEAM zamit had the opportunity to interact and work with her as she learnt the nuances of using psychological counselling, aptitude testing & skill/ ability evaluation for career guidance.

Farhana is an intelligent learner and a good instruction taker. She can sift through available information and sift out conclusive implications. She is focused and grounded.

Farhana functions well in a tech enabled environment. She has an analytical mind with good time management skills. A team player that can listen well and analyse and evaluate her decisions. She can organize herself and prioritize, effectively.

Farhana is emotionally strong and knows how to take a stand in the right direction. With good innate values she has a calming presence on all who interact with her.

I am happy to recommend her to a role where she works closely with the practical aspects of effective and appropriate career guidance before she gets into active career counselling.

We wish Farhana all the very best in her career and life ahead.

If you have any further questions, please do not hesitate to call or mail me and I shall be happy to fill you in.

Sincerely
