

AJK Mass Communication Research Centre
Department of English and
Centre for European and Latin American Studies
Jamia Millia Islamia in collaboration with Italian Cultural Institute, New Delhi invite you to a 2 part lecture by

Dr. Alan O'Leary
University of Leeds (UK)

on

Italian Cinema

on September 5, 2013 (2.00 pm onwards)
Venue: JBMRC, MCRC, Jamia

ALAN O'LEARY is Associate Professor in Italian at the University of Leeds (UK) where he teaches Italian cinema and cultural studies.

He edits the annual Film Issue of the THE ITALIANIST, co-founded with Millicent Marcus (Yale), and is co-director of the Popular Cultures Research Network (with Stuart Green) and director of the Cultural Studies Research Grouping of the School of Modern Languages and Cultures at Leeds.

His monograph TRAGEDIA ALL'ITALIANA on the terrorism of the 1970s in Italian cinema, was published in Italian in 2007 (Angelica Editore) and in a revised English edition in 2011 (Peter Lang). He has also co-edited two volumes on the theme. His monograph on the Italian Christmas film, the 'cinepanettone', has been published by Rubbettino (2013). He has also written on the historiography of Italian cinema.

Co-ordinator: Soumya Varma www.jmi.ac