

Workshop on ‘Importance of Parental Involvement’ by CECDR, Jamia Millia Islamia, New Delhi

Centre for Early Childhood Development and Research (CECDR), Jamia Millia Islamia, New Delhi organised a workshop for parents on 14th and 21st September, 2012 in M. F. Nursery School, JMI, New Delhi. Parent’s involvement in their children’s learning is a critical component for the overall development of a child. It is also an essential element for the success of an early childhood education programme. Keeping this in view, the theme of the workshop was “Importance of Parental Involvement” where the significance of parents’ involvement both in the school and at the home was highlighted. The workshop involved various interesting hands-on activities for parents to exhibit the role of active learning for children. A role play was also performed by students of CECDR (Masters’ programme in Early Childhood Development), to emphasise the role and ways of parental involvement for child’s overall development. The teachers of M. F. Nursery school, JMI, New Delhi also participated in the event. More than 100 parents participated in the event and enthusiastically shared their personal experiences and learning with the group.
