- In this regard attempt was made to extract factors which appropriately for the managerial development
- For this data were collected from managers of Payame Noor University from where samples were drawn randomly.
- Questionnaires of MADM were used for collecting data which were analyzed by using ANOVA
- Results found indicate that certain factors are significant and can be used for designing better patterns of managerial development at Payame Noor University.
- My research indicates that there is scope for further researches where we can explore the relationship of various factors for the benefit of non-teaching managers also.
- We can conclude that managers should not be exposed to those variables which do not help them develop. Only those variables should be used which directly affect their development in positive manner.
