

Notification No: 520/2022

Notification date: 06-09-2022

Date of Award: 04-08-2022

Name of the scholar: Sayid Habeeb Rahman K.P

Name of the supervisor: Prof. Syed Shahid Ali

Name of the Department: Department of Islamic Studies

Topic of the research : Development of Islamic Religious Sciences in Karnataka and Kerala after Independence

FINDINGS

Development of Islamic Religious Sciences in Karnataka and Kerala after Independence

Islamic religious sciences is the one of the fundamental subject matters of Islamic studies that consists of five main branches.1-Ulum al Quran or Ilm at-Tafsir, 2 Ilm al-Hadith. 3 Ilm al-Fiqh, 4 Ilm al-Kalam, 5 Ilm al Tasawwuf .South Indian contributions to Islamic studies are numerous. . This research work focus on the development of Islamic religious sciences in Karnataka and Kerala after independence. The writings in classical Islamic religious sciences have drastically changed after the independence and mainly due to the Gulf boom in 1970's. The first chapter provides an overview of the centers of learning for Islamic religious sciences in Karnataka. This chapter provides an overview of the evolution of Islamic education in Karnataka, as well as descriptions of the state's key institutions. A brief summary of significant persons attributed with the development of Islamic religious science in Karnataka is provides in the Second chapter, as well as notable writings in several fields of Islamic religious sciences. The Third chapter discusses the evolution of Islamic study centers and their many forms in Kerala, as well as a full description of important institutions that offer sanad degrees. The fourth chapter examines and explains the contributions of prominent figures and works of literature to the improvement and popularization of the subject of Islamic religious in Kerala. A brief summary of the study's unique and well-recognized tendencies in Arab-Kerala relations is also provided. This chapter also includes a full discussion of the peculiarities of Kerala's Islamic scholars and literature.