

PROGRAMME PROJECT REPORT (PPR)
M.A. POLITICAL SCIENCE

Centre for Distance and Open Learning has introduced the M.A- Political Science (Distance Mode) Programme, keeping in mind the heterogeneous nature and varied needs of that section of our society which for some reason or the other has missed or has not had the opportunity for further studies in conventional colleges or universities, or belong to far flung areas or to the deprived sections of the society. It aims at equipping students with latest information on the scope and development of Political Science.

Objectives of the Programme

This Programme aims to achieve the following objectives:

- To provide an opportunity to get a Post Graduate degree to those who find it too difficult or even impossible to pursue regular Master course at a University either due to their job commitments or certain other circumstances.
- To help the learners study at their own pace, and from their own chosen place.
- It also provide an insight into various fields, issues of contemporary importance i.e. theories, education, marketing, social systems and globalization etc.

Eligibility

Bachelor's Degree (10+2+3) in any discipline from a recognized University.

Duration of the Programme

Minimum duration of the Programme: 04(Four) Semesters / 02 (Two) Years
Maximum duration of the Programme: 08 (Eight) Semesters / 04(Five) Years

Instructional delivery mechanisms:

The M.A Pol. Science programme is conducted through Programme Centres also known as Study Centres, where students are helped and guided by the Programme Incharge/Coordinator, and Counselors etc. The programme is based on the multimedia approach, which includes self-learning print material, audio/video programmes, assignments, counseling sessions and practical.

Print Material

The print material is in the form of self-explanatory course material. It is supplied to each student in the form of blocks. Each paper of M.A Pol. Science programme is divided into units. These are supplied by the Centre for Distance and Open Learning to the students/study centres. The students can collect the study material from their respective study centre. Exercises to check the progress of learners are given at the end of units. These are only for the help of learners and need not be sent to the study centres for evaluation.

Assignments

Assignments constitute the continuous evaluations system. The submission of assignments is compulsory. Assignments of a course carry approx. 25% weightage while about 75% weightage is given to the Semester end Examination.

There is one assignment (25 marks) for each course; therefore, the student is required to do 5 (in each semester) assignments in order to complete the programme. The assignments are designed in such a way as to help you concentrate mainly on the printed course material, however, if you have easy access to other books, you may make use of them. Whenever you receive a set of material and assignments, check them immediately and ask for missing pages/books/assignments, if any, and contact the coordinator of your Programme/Study Centre.

The assignments are compulsory components and it will be necessary to submit the theory assignment of all courses at your programme centre on or before the due date of submission. In case the student is unable to submit the assignments by the due date/secure the pass marks in assignment(s), he/she will have to submit the assignments again by paying the prescribed fees (see appendix – I). Also he/she will have to wait for the assignment schedule meant for the next batch of students and then submit.

For your own record, retain a copy of all the assignment responses which you submit to the coordinator, also maintain an account of the corrected assignment responses received by you after the evaluation. If you do not get passing marks in any assignment, you have to submit it again. However, once you get the pass marks in an assignment, you cannot re-submit it for improvement of marks. Assignments are not subject to re-evaluation except for factual errors, if any committed by the evaluator. The discrepancy noticed by you in the evaluated assignments should be brought to the notice of the coordinator of the Programme/Study Centre so that the required correction can be made.

Counselling Sessions

Generally the counselling sessions will be held at the programme centres on weekends or at the times appointed by the Study/Programme Centres. Within the general schedule of the programme, the coordinator at the Programme Centre will decide on the coverage of these sessions. The Programme Centre coordinator will provide the counselling schedule. The counselling sessions will include clarifications required in the print-material and the solution of problems through active interaction with the students. The assignments will also be discussed in the sessions. Counselling sessions will be organized for all theory courses of M.A Political Science programme. The counseling time for each theory course will consist of 4 sessions of 2 hours each

Procedure for admissions, curriculum transaction and evaluation:

The University conducts Semester-End Examinations twice a year. To be eligible to appear in the semester-end examination in any course, you are required to fulfill the following conditions:

- You should have opted and pursued the prescribed course
- You should have submitted the examination form in time

In case you have not been able to appear in the examination in certain papers or could not clear certain papers, you can do so in the subsequent semester-end examinations up to a maximum duration inclusive of the year of admission by paying Rs. 500/- per theory paper.

Examination Date sheet

Examination date sheets (schedule which indicates the date and time of examination for each course) are sent to all the programme centres approximately 1 month in advance.

Examination Forms

It is a pre-requisite to submit the Examination Form for taking an examination in any course. The forms pertaining to Semester-end Examination, Admit Card and Student's Record Card are provided in the Programme Guide as 'Form A', 'Form B' respectively.

The filled-in examination form is to be submitted to the "Hony. Director, CENTRE FOR DISTANCE AND OPEN LEARNING, JAMIA MILLIA ISLAMIA, NEW DELHI

110025". Write 'Examination Form' on the Top of the Envelope and submit it by the last date fixed by the Centre. For submission after the last date and upto 4 weeks late fee will be charged. The late fees paid in the form of a demand draft in favour of Jamia Millia Islamia payable at New Delhi along with the examination form should be sent to the Hony. Director, Centre for Distance and Open Learning, Jamia Millia Islamia New Delhi – 110025

After receiving the examination form from you, the Admit Card will be sent 15 days before the commencement of examination. If you do not receive the intimation slip before the commencement of examination, you may contact your Programme Centre. Even if you have not received the intimation slip or misplaced it you can take the examination by showing the proof of sending your examination form and your identity card (Student's Record Card) to the examination centre superintendent. (You are advised to carefully write your Enrolment Number and Roll Number on the Answer Script. Any mistake in writing the Roll Number will result in non-declaration of your result.)

It is your duty to check whether you are registered for the course and whether you are eligible to appear for that examination and have deposited the required fees or not. If you neglect this and take the examination without being eligible for it or without depositing the required fees, your result will be cancelled. PROGRAMME CENTRE is the contact point for you since the Centre for Distance and Open Learning cannot send communications to all the students individually. All the important communications are sent to the coordinator of the programme centre. The coordinator will display a copy of such important circulars/notifications on the notice board of the programme centre so as to get the latest information about the assignment, submission of examination forms, date sheet, list of students admitted to a particular course, declaration of result etc. While communicating with the Centre for Distance & Open Learning regarding examinations, please write your Roll Number, complete address and telephone number clearly. In the absence of such details, your problems may not receive due attention.
