MESSAGE

(For Faculty members)

21st September, 2020

Dear Colleagues,

In today's competitive market for talent, innovation is a key to showcase the talent. I believe innovation has been part of your research as any good research will not get published until it carries inherent novelty. The fundamental basis of a Patent to be filed is the Novelty. Filing a patent will give you another aspect of research leading to the development of a technology that may sometime benefit the humanity. It will help you and your students in future to establish a start-up or an active industrial collaboration other than the personal growth.

I would like to promote filing of the patents as many of you are already doing so at an individual level and are further willing to do so. Increasing number of filed and published patents will bring further laurel to university. I will see that a proper arrangement may be made in the administration to facilitate this and the payment of one time filing fee may be reimbursed to the inventors.

Looking forward for your active participation in filing patent.

With best wishes,

Najma Akhtar
