31. Code of ethics for research followed by the departments

The Centre follows the university norms in selecting research proposals and allotting guides. It does a continuous monitoring of the research through internal assessments and periodic presentations of assignments and seminar papers for M.Phil Semester 1 and II students. Course work in M.Phil Semester I includes a course on research methodology that also familiarizes students with ethical debates in social science research. Supervisors and teachers ensure that students do not plagiarize from published materials through constant interaction and assessment. For M.Phil. Semester III and IV, students work on their dissertations.. M.Phil students are to present their work before submission; the dissertations are evaluated by an external expert recommended by the Committee of Studies. Ph.D students present their progress once in six months before Committee of Studies.

EVALUATIVE REPORT OF CENTRE FOR JAWAHARLAL NEHRU STUDIES

46. How does the department ensure that programme objectives are constantly met and learning outcomes are monitored?

- The programme objectives are constantly met and learning outcomes are monitored through attendance, internal assessment, seminar presentations, tutorials, personal feedback from the students etc.

47. Highlight the participation of students and faculty in extension activities.

Please see Annexure-ERDV: Participation of students and faculty in Extension Activities --

48. Give details of “beyond syllabus scholarly activities” of the department.

- Centre organizes workshops, seminars, conferences, research methodology course, extension lectures, etc.

49. State whether the programme/department is accredited/graded by other agencies? If yes, give details. No

50. Briefly highlight the contributions of the Department in generating new knowledge, basic or applied.

- In a short span of five years centre has produced one Ph.D. and 39 M.Phil students and 17 students are working on their M.Phil. Degrees. 13 students are pursuing their Ph.D. in interdisciplinary subject. These 69 students are generating new knowledge on contemporary developmental issues. This research is interdisciplinary in nature and also covers classical subjects. Some of the Subjects on which knowledge is being generated are in the field of economics, History, Sociology, Tribal Issues, Gender and Development Issues using interdisciplinary approach under the highly qualified faculty members of the centre. During assessment period, small number of faculty has produced approximately 60 research papers published in well known journals and refereed edited volumes. The research work of the faculty has been cited by other scholars in their research work. Centre has organized 21 workshops/seminars/conferences during the five years period. The proceedings of some seminars are published and available for public use. Centre is also engaged to generate knowledge of applied issues by its research methodology course and workshops.
- The Centre has been bringing out an interdisciplinary journal “Contemporary Perspectives: History and Sociology of South Asia” which was published by Cambridge University Press between 2008-2010. Since 2010 it is coming out as the “History and Sociology of South Asia” from Sage Publications. Several internationally known scholars like Prof. Utsa Patnaik, Prof. Amar Farooqui, Prof. Akeel Bilgrami are on its editorial advisory committee, several internationally acclaimed scholar like Prof. Prabhat Patnaik, Prof. Rajna Hashe, Flavia Agnes, Prof. Rama Baru, Prof. Benjamin Zachariah have published in this journal.

51. Detail any five Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities and Challenges (SWOC) of the department.

EVALUATIVE REPORT OF CENTRE FOR JAWAHARLAL NEHRU STUDIES

Strengths

- Interdisciplinary studies

The focus of the Centre is to study the interdisciplinary issues of contemporary period encompassing social, economical, political, environmental and cultural aspects. The curriculum is also designed in such a manner to give theoretical and macro perspective to understand the interdisciplinary issues. The students are encouraged to do research in these broad themes. Interdisciplinary approach of investigation of social and economic problems is the strength of Centre.

- Library

Over short span 7 years, the Centre has developed a library having 12, 000 (Twelve Thousand) books consisting of history, anthropology, economics, sociology, environment and cultural studies. The library also has some reports. The library catalogue is computerized. The Library has one reading room with air conditioned and about 35 seating capacity and also 15 computers with internet facility.

- Infrastructure,

The Centre has one seminar room with 50 seating capacity along with air condition and LCD facilities. The Centre has one committee room and one class room. Each faculty members has separate cabin with air condition and computer with internet facility.

- Journal publications

The Centre has been bringing out an interdisciplinary journal “Contemporary Perspectives: History and Sociology of South Asia” which was published by Cambridge University Press during 2008-2010. Since 2010 it is coming out as the “History and Sociology of South Asia” from Sage Publications, New Delhi. The focus of the journal is to map significant historical processes and the transformation of the social, economic and political fabric of South Asian societies. The disciplinary focus of this journal lies across History and Sociology which enables it to research areas like political economy, social ecology, minority rights, gender and environmental issues.

- Interdisciplinary Faculties

The Centre has the interdisciplinary faculty members with the following specializations - Economic History and Environmental History, Development Economics, Environmental and Tribal History, Gender and Development, Sociology of Education, Religion, Muslim Studies, Trade and Development issues. The faculty members are belongs to the Economics, History and sociology disciplines.

Weakness

- Limited Faculty Strength

At present the strength of the faculty is limited hence it is restricted the opportunities for the students to carry out the research in interdisciplinary aspects. At present, the Centre has five Faculty members. Since the focus of the Centre is to study the interdisciplinary issues of contemporary period encompassing social, economical, political, environmental and cultural aspects, more faculty members are required

EVALUATIVE REPORT OF CENTRE FOR JAWAHARLAL NEHRU STUDIES

- Limited Interdisciplinary subjects specialization
Only a very few universities are offering interdisciplinary academic programmes and research. Hence, it is very difficult to attract interdisciplinary faculty members.
- Lack of Research Funding and Support for Field Research
The focus of this Centre is interdisciplinary research, core funding and support is required for students and faculty for conducting field research which has relevance for public policy etc.
- Lack of Journals and Data Bases in the Library
The Centre's library does not have the research journals, reports and other data sources
- Lack of Technical Manpower
The Centre has only limited manpower to manage the library and other infrastructures like computer.

Opportunities

- Expansion of Research Activities

The Centre has a lot of opportunities to expand the interdisciplinary research by offering various optional papers develop the potential of the Centre. This would lead to strengthening of the development studies programme of the Centre.

- Publications

The Centre has an opportunity to develop its publications programmes viz., working papers. The Centre has already initiated the process for bringing the working paper series namely "CJNS Working Paper Series" for the faculty members, Ph.D./M.Phil Students and the external members giving seminars and extension lectures in the Centre.

- Collaboration with other Institutions

The Centre has a lot of opportunities to develop the potential of the Centre by having collaboration with the national and international organizations in areas of mutual interest. Centre would like to strengthen the profile by recruiting faculty of other interdisciplinary specializations.

- To develop various academic programmes

The Centre has offered a paper "Environment and development" at masters level under cross listing programme of the university. This would lead to strengthening of the development studies programme of the Centre as it would be taught at M.A., M.Phil and Ph.D. levels. The Centre also has an opportunity to develop various programmes in collaboration with the other centres and departments to offer various academic and research programmes with interdisciplinary components. The Centre has a lot of opportunities to develop various academic programme with interdisciplinary aspects at different level like certificate, diploma and master programmes.

EVALUATIVE REPORT OF CENTRE FOR JAWAHARLAL NEHRU STUDIES

- Developing an Archives of Papers on Contemporary History of India

The Centre intends to develop archive of papers on contemporary History of India for the benefit of researchers in Jamia and outside. The Centre will be a nodal point for collection of oral histories, policy documents and political pamphlets and documents on the post independent period. This will enable students to orient themselves towards doing research on contemporary developmental issues. This resource centre will add to an already rich library.

Challenges

- Generating Resources for Research

The Centre is unable to mobilize the fund for the research projects. It is challenge to mobilize funds for research in the field of social sciences where budgetary allocations are historically low. With a few faculty members, the Centre has taught at the M.Phil level and research methodology course for the Ph.D programme besides guiding M.Phil and Ph.D students. This constraint is a major challenge to work in the interdisciplinary research.

- Increasing the strength of Interdisciplinary Faculty
- Strengthening Interdisciplinary Library Material

The Centre's library however needs to be systematized and linked to centralized cataloguing systems so that better public use can be made of it. Funds and technical staff are needed to maintain and expand a large collection of interdisciplinary literature consisting of books, journals, and reports.

- Employment Opportunities/Exposure of Students through internship and Student Exchange Programme

It is challenge for the Centre to ensure the employment opportunities to the students of the centre. To overcome this difficulty, additional faculty members are required to offer wide range of interdisciplinary options which will ensure the employment opportunities

52. Future plans of the department.

- Strengthening our research activities by bringing working papers, discussion papers, workshops, seminars, etc.
- The Centre has already initiated the process for bringing the working paper series namely "CJNS Working Paper Series" for the faculty members, Ph.D./M.Phil Students and the external members giving seminars and extension lectures in the Centre. It has already been approved by the Vice Chancellor.
- Developing the Centre as a Nodal Centre for Interdisciplinary Research in Social Sciences.

EVALUATIVE REPORT OF CENTRE FOR JAWAHARLAL NEHRU STUDIES

- It is an attempt to make the Centre as a focal point for training and research on Social Science research methodology issues.
- The Centre would like to emerge as a leading centre of Interdisciplinary research methodology issues. In this process the Centre has already organized 4 research methodology courses and trained 120 researchers in Social Sciences.
- Being Centre for Social Science research we would like to lead the discussion on contemporary development issues. In this context the Centre has undertaken many activities in the past on development issues and conceptualized many such activities in the future.
- National and international Collaborations in area of mutual interest of teaching and research
