

EMERGING INDIA in the NEW WORLD ORDER

The book analyses and describes the emerging dimension of India's foreign policy and how the past two decades have witnessed the transformation of India from a peripheral player in world politics to one that is more powerful, assertive and much more deeply engaged with world affairs. This has come about as a result of major shifts, both in the structure of international politics as well as India's domestic politics. Indian foreign policy has been suitably altered to cater to the country's new goals and aspirations.

The book is likely to generate academic, scholarly debate and discourse on issues related to new nuances and elements of foreign policy with particular emphasis on the country's dealings with her neighbours as well other major powers of the world. By discussing the impact of important bilateral measures along with other micro and macro factors that has impacted India's foreign policy decision making, the book provides a new and fresh perspective which may have long terms policy implications for the South Asian regional architecture and the larger New World Order.

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Dr. Mohammed Badrul Alam currently heads the Department of Political Science, Jamia Millia Islamia. He was educated at Utkal University, Odisha, Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi; and Cornell University, USA; from where he completed his M.A., M.Phil. and Ph.D. He is the author of Perspective on Nuclear Strategy of India and Pakistan (2013), Indo-US Relations: Dimensions and Emerging Trends (2013). He is a recipient of several awards including the Fulbright Fellowship, Shastri Canadian Foreign Ministry Award, DAAD Fellowship, Salzburg Global Fellowship and the Baden-Wuerttemberg Fellowship.

Dr. Nisar-ul-Haq is a Professor in the Department of Political Science, Jamia Millia Islamia. He is the author of Regional Cooperation in South Asia (2003), Gulf Cooperation Council: An Introduction (1994). He has published papers in various journals. He has been a member of various committees of University Grants Commission (UGC), Indian Council of Social Science Research (ICSSR) and Human Resource Development ministry of Government of India. Prof Haq has also been a part of faculty selection committees of various universities in India. He was an Observer U.N. Human Rights Commission, Geneva, Switzerland from 2010–2012. He also chaired the Indian Tourism Congress in Bali, Indonesia (2014). He is currently coordinator of International Summer School, New Delhi.

BLOOMSBURY

EMERGING INDIA in the NEW WORLD ORDER

Mohammed Badrul Alam • Nisar-ul-Haq

EMERGING INDIA in the NEW WORLD ORDER

Editors

Mohammed Badrul Alam
Nisar-ul-Haq

BLOOMSBURY