Press Release

JMI organizes training seminars for the faculty members of Kabul-based Universities

The Nelson Mandela Centre for Peace and Conflict Resolution, JMI, in collaboration with the Centre for Afghanistan Studies (CAS), University of Nebraska at Omaha, with the support of “University Support Workforce Development Program” funded by USAID is conducting two training seminars for the faculty members of Kabul University, Balkh University, and Kabul Polytechnic University at Jamia Millia Islamia for the duration of eleven days starting December 28, 2016 and ending on January 7, 2017.

These trainings are part of the broader Academic Capacity building project of the Center for Afghanistan Studies at the University of Nebraska at Omaha. UNO has been assisting Kabul University, Balkh University and Kabul Polytechnic University with skills that will help these Afghan professors to teach better than before, improve their academic skills, and update their curriculum and syllabus to higher standards in order to provide their students opportunities to better higher education opportunities.

The faculty from the College of Mass Communications and Fine Arts from the University of Nebraska at Omaha and faculty from the College of Engineering from the University of Nebraska at Lincoln are helping with achieving the goals of this project. This project is funded by USAID and administered by FHI360, an International NGO partnering with USAID. The Nelson Mandela Centre for Peace and Conflict Resolution, Jamia Millia Islamia, is the implementing partner for the project.

The two Training Seminars were inaugurated on Wednesday, December 28, 2016 at 11.00 a.m. in Mir Anis Hall, Dayar-e-Mir Taqi Mir, JMI. The Vice Chancellor, Prof. Talat Ahmad was the Chief Guest in the inaugural session of the Training Seminars. While delivering the inaugural remarks, Prof. Talat Ahmad extended a warm welcome to the participants and the resource persons. There are altogether forty participants in the two training programmes.
