Dear Students,

Warm greetings,

First of all I would like to wish you a very healthy, sound and safe life. Needless to say, health, coupled with diligent efforts, stands for the quality of life which enables us to live our lives joyously and abundantly. Among several factors of crucial importance, precautionary measures, healthful habits and activities play vital roles in ensuring safety and protection against deadly viruses and serious illness. You are supreme and best creation of God. You can efficiently act upon the wholesome do's and don'ts to live with physical, moral and emotional well-being. You are strictly advised not to assemble or sit in groups for health reasons. You had better be at your home. Your company will boost the harmony of mind, body and soul of your parents and guardians. You are also advised to wisely avoid venturing out and mixing with people to prevent the spread of the fatal illness. There is a likelihood of extending the shutdown of the university.

In the wake of the outbreak of pandemic corona virus causing deadly contagious illness, the administration of Jamia Millia Islamia has already suspended the classroom transaction. Sensitive to your needs, your teachers are reaching out to you through emails, whatsapp and other mediums so that the teaching-learning activities do not get hampered. Your creative and productive contact with your teachers is sure to impart you the art of working in collaborations with desired commitment. It will, I am sure, draw your attention towards the treasure-house of merits and qualities within you. I know your capability of supplementing your knowledge with wisdom to work miracles. Combined with practical, social, emotional and interpersonal skills, your determined attitude towards your life and career will definitely promote and consolidate the atmosphere of love and respect on the campus of Jamia Millia Islamia.

You are in the prime of your life, strong in your body and clear in your mind. You must sharpen your competitive edge and skills while relying on your abilities and competence. Pursue your dreams with a renewed zeal, you will surely emerge as the symbol of achievements and success. Every day of your life is a day of resolution. Resolve that you will stay adventurous, inquisitiveness, optimistic and ever-progressive. Everything worth achieving can be achieved through sustained and continuous efforts. Fruit of labour is more delicious than the gifts of fortune. You are expected to be from those who believe action to be the integral and constructive part of life. Stay in the race to come off best.

As an ideal citizen of India, you have various responsibilities towards your nation and its people. It is your bounden duty to help the country in its concerted efforts to contain the spread of the deadly corona virus. I would urge you comply with the advisories issued from time to time. Our nation has to emerge victorious in the war it has waged against the deadly corona virus.

Wishing you all the best
